Abstract: Educating young people for patriotism is a well-known principle, it is a moral concept that means a person's love for his homeland, his desire to preserve it. Education of our youth in the spirit of patriotism is an issue that will never lose its importance.

Key words: Patriotism, characteristics, heritage, independent, development, society, general education;

The principle of patriotism is related to such factors as self-sacrificing perception of the concept of the Motherland, feeling of love for a certain region and people.

This principle is not an imaginary feeling, but a set of moral actions based on love for a certain time, for certain compatriots.

Patriotism is formed in a specific environment, on the ground and on the basis of existing spiritual and moral values. A person does not create a sense of patriotism, but rather accepts it. Because patriotism is a social feeling formed in the process of long historical development.

Patriotism is a high level manifestation of social and spiritual moral qualities of people. Because they are based on loving the land inherited from their ancestors, preserving traditions and values, working wholeheartedly for the prosperity of the country, protecting the Motherland from its enemies, liberating it from any dependence, even if necessary, giving its life for its freedom and independence. there are also good ideas such as self-sacrifice.

Currently, educating our young people to develop a sense of patriotism, teaching them to deeply understand the meaning of the Motherland, explaining that patriotism is a high moral principle is the basis of our moral values.

Education of the young generation in the spirit of patriotism occupies a special place in ensuring the independence of the country. That is why patriotic education is the demand of the times.

Educating deep-thinking young people imbued with national patriotic ideas is the main factor in realizing national identity. Therefore, each of our young people preparing for the defense of the Motherland must be educated in the spirit of high patriotism.

After all, patriotism is the main necessity of our social life, because without it there will be neither creativity nor development.

This vital truth should become the principle that we always follow, the basis and condition of the development of society, and it should embody a whole system. At the center of this system should be immortal values such as spirituality, morality, and enlightenment.

Wide opportunities are created for young people to express themselves in every field. Educating each young generation with high spirituality, love for the Motherland, respect for national and universal traditions, protecting their minds and consciousness from harmful foreign ideas is considered as a special task.
