

THE IMPORTANCE OF READING IN LEARNING FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Adash Eshankulovna Rustamova

PhD, Docent

Baxtiyorova Muslimabonu Shuxrat qizi

Student, SamSIFL

Abstract: In this article you will be given information about not only importance of reading and effects of this on other skills but also several types of activities for increasing reading desire.

Keywords Improving all skills simultaneously, vain, active and passive vocabulary, reading desire, encouragement, unconsciously, reading schedule.

More and more people are witnessing great desire for learning new languages day by day. However, as starting is always a bit difficult, beginners usually face with questions like “What should I start from?”, “How can I improve my all skills simultaneously?”, “How should I learn new vocabulary for using them in a correct situation?”. For finding answers to these questions, knowing importance of reading is very essential for many reasons which we will write in this article.

Reading helps you with your vocabulary. Regardless of your proficiency level, reading is beneficial for many reasons, especially in your vocabulary improvement. One of the most common mistakes which novices make is growing passive vocabulary by learning without knowing how use them. They get dictionary books and learn a bunch of vocabulary. Although they are well informed about their definition, they cannot put them in correct situation. However, during reading, when you run into new expression, you can write it down and pay attention to whether that phrase shows up later in the text so that you can see in which situations you can use it. Some expressions may have multiple meaning which you can find out by reading. Even if you read a word for the first time, you can find out its meaning from context, which means that you know how and when to use it right. At first, you may need spend more time on reading something and on understanding the context but over time, you will be faster and more and more expressions will be familiar to you.

Effect of reading on grammar. Grammar is one of the most difficult step in learning every language since Memorizing every single grammar rules can be boring. But without it speaking and developing other skills is impossible. Therefore, we can also make it easier by reading. With reading, you can see grammar patterns, find out grammar exceptions and learn difficult sentences structures which you can use in your writing. Role of reading in speaking. Improving speaking without improving reading is impossible. By reading, your mindset grows unconsciously as a result, you do not have problem with finding ideas that is the most vital for speaking and writing test. Another benefits reading provides us is possibility to sound like a native speaker. Because, if you read more with loud voice, you start to imitate natives. That, of course, cannot happen overnight. It takes a lot of time and effort. But trust us, after lots of attempts you will be surprised.

As for writing skills, this is something you improve with reading without being aware of. That's one of the best part. After reading stories, articles even news, you can try to rewrite it with paraphrasing. And also as we mentioned before, you can develop your idea bag by reading, it may be magazines, journals, stories, articles or news. You can read anything you want and seems enjoyable. As we wrote, trying to improve other skills without reading is vain. By increasing reading desire, you will be able to show better results. Thus, we cannot deny significance of reading, but another problem is giving encouragement to ourselves to read more. You will be informed about ways which are considered advantageous for inspiring wishing for read in following statements:

1. Do not make reading chore. Even though reading is compulsory activity for you do not force yourself read anything which you hate. It should be enjoyable and stress-buster activity. If you cannot get into a book, move onto new one. The world full of books which you should read. If you do not keen on reading, firstly try to find easier, shorter, and more interesting thing for you.

2. Create reading schedule. Like anything else, reading also gets easier with practice. Every day dedicate your time on reading, even if it is just ten minutes. Do not forget choose the best time to read. However, it does not mean always wait for that time you should create it. It could be in queue, doing house chores, or even driving car (by using audio books). So bring your books everywhere. And always obey this rule. Even one exception may affect badly. 3. Don not afraid making experiments with genres. Do not limit yourself only one genre. People enjoy different experiments. Continuing it till find best genre for yourself. Whether you are reading fiction or nonfiction books, it's important to enjoy what you read. Your friends may recommend books that they love, but those books might not necessarily be the ones you enjoy.

In conclusion, we wish reiterate the importance of reading for anyone to wants to improve his or her level in language which they are learning. Reading is a joy! It increases your knowledge of their world, your vocabulary, your other skills and your ability to construct new and interesting sentences. We hope this article will be useful for you.

REFERENCES:

1. <http://the-orbit.net/brutereason/2015/06/23/how-to-motivate-yourself-to-read-books/>
2. <http://www.realsimple.com/health/preventative-health/benefits-ofreading-real-books>
3. <https://www.justlearn.com/blog/importance-of-reading-in-foreignlanguage-learning>
4. <https://www.lifehack.org/articles/productivity/15-ways-help-you-readmore.html>
5. <https://preply.com/en/blog/the-importance-of-reading-english-moreoften-and-more-widely/>