

ON THE CONCEPT OF NARRATIVE METHODS

Yuldosheva Shoira

3rd grade student of Jizzakh State University

Abstract: In this article, primary classes read a story methodology, story analysis, and improving the student's worldview an opinion is expressed about its importance.

Keywords: Story Analysis, Story Interpretation, My Dad Built sea apple, comprehensibility.

A story is a small piece of art, in which there is a certain part of a person's life events, important aspects of life are summarized. The story often describes an episode in a person's life. Its content It is more realistic than in a fairy tale. The content of the story is elementary is a suitable genre for students. Young students the characters' behavior, appearance, portraits, stories about events are more interesting. Therefore, introducing children to the story and its plot is carried out depending on the explanation. To read the story in primary grades opening the content of the story read in the dedicated explanatory reading lessons, vocabulary from the main types of work, such as working on, retelling the read text is used. The main type of work in this process is the analysis of the story. The story content is usually analyzed based on questions. Analyzing the story. This During the lesson, the story is explained by the teacher reading Then the analysis of the story, which is considered the main part of the lesson will pass to the stage. This is the most important stage, mainly the student's thinking and serves to develop speech. Read by the teacher Analytical interview will be held based on the story explained. That is, the storycharacters, the development of events in it, which episode you liked, etc. Through this the student has the opportunity to think and form a broad worldview will be. It is appropriate if the lesson process is organized roughly like this:

1. Answering the teacher's questions about the content of the text.
2. Completing a quiz based on the text of the story.
3. Pupils make questions about the content of the story.
4. Draw pictures suitable for the content of the story.
5. Divide the text of the story into parts.
6. Find a title for each part.
7. Plan the story.

8. Planned retelling (full, abbreviated and creative retelling storytelling).

9. Writing a statement based on the plan. But in the analysis of the story, given to the complete explanation of the plot, types of work such as describing the characters, analyzing the construction and language of the work should not be ignored. The appeal of fairy tale genre texts pulls the child to him. But the narrative genre is unique in its vitality. Events in the story develop quickly. Human life is connected with it life scenes are described. The character of the students' hero, interested in their features. For example, in the 3rd grade "Reading book".

"Sea built by my father" (Hakim Nazir), "Apple" (Malik Muradov) and others interesting stories are given. They vary in subject matter, It also differs with the character traits of the characters. Initial on studying the story plot, composition, characters in classes various analyzes are carried out on the basis of work on the text. It's the student's creative activity increases, scope of creative thinking expands. Also in the analysis the comprehensibility of the text of the story being read is also crucial. By comprehensibility, we mean the extent to which a child's worldview, we can understand that it is chosen according to his thinking. In analyzing the story the questions are usually asked by the teacher, but the content of the work is the participant create questions for students to reveal the behavior of individuals very useful. This method is very popular with children and makes the work come alive the ability to understand the content well, to express one's opinion coherently keeping in mind the connection between acquisition, content and events helps students to stay.

Peace, tranquility, honesty and harmony in the family that honors the book rules. There will be blessings in such an environment. The place of the first father in the family, putting his honor in place, honoring the mother, older brothers, the good habits of being considerate of brothers directly through the book is strengthened. In the process of patiently reading the book by the child, every digests the word by feeling it from the heart. As the sages say, to the stone like a carved pattern. The book increases the thirst for knowledge. Young thorough acquisition of the foundations of scientific and worldly knowledge of the generation, they are extensive formation of the worldview and the scope of thinking and spiritual and moral effective organization of educational work for the formation of qualities should be achieved. After all, creating a bright perspective of the country is his to spread the name of the Republic of Uzbekistan widely to the world, to enrich them ensuring that the young generation occupies a place among the developed countries it depends on him becoming a perfect person. Perfect in every way and a hard-working teacher in educating and bringing up the generation hard work of coaches lies. There are a lot of works of art in a number of academic subjects taught in schools is addressed. For example, the lives of writers and poets in reading classes and creativity, their works, artistic in classes of native language and Russian language subjects excerpts from the works, sentences are given, and by analyzing them, the foundations of science will be studied and on this basis the educational influence will be shown to the students. Vocational orientation of students in labor education classes it is good to use works of art to increase efficiency can lead to results. New programs and events for the future and development of Uzbekistan As it is developed, it will contribute to the better life of our people it is the duty of every citizen of the country to add. This is one of our duties we need to create conditions for young people to get education. Of this It is natural that the question of what to do will arise. The most correct and A wise idea is to adapt these students to their interests, inclinations, and abilities to create an opportunity for them to learn and make independent decisions we need to teach him various measures. One of these measures is to increase students' interest in artistic works in schools provision is very important. Because students read works of art when they do, they see the heroes of the work in their imaginations. By they analyze past events. As a result, the scope of thinking expanded to life they start to look realistic. All children are artistic works an objection may arise that they do not read. For this purpose, extracurricular activities are organized in schools according to the interest of students it is appropriate to organize the evenings. In conclusion , it is necessary for us to work conscientiously for the development of our country. Pupils grow up to become well-rounded people for, first of all, we teachers are knowledgeable, spiritual, competitive specialists we need to form. That's the only way to our goal we will achieve.

REFERENCES:

1. Yoldoshev Q. Scientific and theoretical foundations of teaching literature. T.: 1996.
2. Komilov N. Sufism and artistic creativity. "Youth" magazine